Alain Ducasse at The Dorchester launches 'The Bespoke Dining Experience'

Alain Ducasse at The Dorchester has created a bespoke dining experience, giving those with a designer taste the rare opportunity to add their own personal touch to a Michelin starred dinner.

Recently awarded three Michelin stars, the restaurant has enhanced private dining by launching a bespoke dining experience. Guests can create their very own 'menu from the menu' with their own choice of dishes chosen from the restaurant's à la carte menu. The new package not only allows guests to select from the haute cuisine menu, but also to tailor their table setting by choosing from the selection of china, silverware, table ornaments and glassware selected from designer houses, famous for the finest creations in tableware.

Guests booking the 'bespoke experience' are able to arrange the most exclusive and glamorous celebrations at the restaurant's stunning Table Lumière, one of the most prestigious dining tables in London offering the ultimate dining atmosphere. Cocooned by a luminescent oval curtain, the table is surrounded by 4,500 shimmering fibre optics which drop dramatically from the ceiling. Designer Patrick Jouin compares sitting at this table to walking into a cloud. While diners are able to hear the buzz of the restaurant, they are partly screened from view, giving a sense of intimacy without any loss of atmosphere.

In addition to the choices of wines and food dishes, the 'Bespoke Dining' menu offers options from three exceptional 'Maisons':

- Puiforcat silverware
- St Louis crystal
- Hermès china - including the Century, Fil d'argent and Mesclun collection

These exclusive collections of tableware, silverware and crystal sourced for Alain Ducasse at The Dorchester are showcased in the restaurant's vaisselier.

Alain Ducasse believes that, today more than ever, guests need enchanting and bespoke experiences, saying "I want to offer my guests the right proposal, bringing together the right elements: food, service, design and atmosphere." He adds, "Harmony is what really matters and it is the combination of all these elements that create a truly special dining environment. Table Lumière has its very own harmony."

Guests at his London restaurant can now style Table Lumière according to their tastes and celebrate in style with designer flare.
